

PapoGato

Presented by Amal & Neha

The Premise

You play as a cat that is pulling down and cutting up toilet paper while your owner isn't paying attention.

It quickly expands into a score chasing game, where strategic cuts can build up into crazy combos.

Reception

Our Biggest Endorsement: Indie Game Clinic's IUTK

"Indie Game Clinic is led by Dr. Joe Baxter-Webb, a video game designer, critic, and silly person. Joe has worked for studios and publishers including Adult Swim and King, as well as helping to create games for various music and media brands. He holds a PhD in Media & Cultural Studies, and is a Senior Fellow of the UK Higher Education Authority. You can learn more about Joe's game credits and personal projects in the resume here." *

Main Review: 0:32:12 - 0:52:50
Final Shoutout: 2:57:00 - 2:58:00
Key Quotes in the next slide ->

"IUTK (Indies Under the Knife) is a weekly streaming show where Joe (and chat) analyze and appraise work-in-progress game projects." *

He tends to give fair but critical feedback, so when I saw that PapoGato was featured in the stream, I mentally prepared for the worst. Instead, I was flabbergasted with how much he and the chat loved the game.

IUTK Quotes by Joe Baxter-Webb

"This is a NorthernLion ass game if I ever saw one. When I do my end of year, games of the year thing, I should do like a special category that is like these are the games NorthernLion either will or probably should play. This is in there."

"Bom-BA!" (No one can resist saying this out loud when they first see La Bomba Roll)

"This is a very silly concept, but it's immediately very engaging."

There's lots of things in here you could do... silly little things... to feel like a deluxe game that people are willing to pay more money for.

"This is quite an abstract game, almost a luck be a landlord type gambly game. I really really like this... it's just such a good game concept and I felt like this makes a good use of the cat theme... I think this was one of my favorites, I'd probably come back and play this"

"500 points! Amazing" (With a cheering fist bump)

IUTK Stream Chat Highlights

“Cat mom here and that is so accurate with the toilet rolls 😀”

“It would be really fun to have toilet paper merch of this game”

Rolls being used does give you a push-your-luck relationship.

“Timer sticker! nice”

“Who’s Balatro? All I know is toilet roll”

“Bro just ate 2 bombs"

“It’s evil because it is lemon scented ^^”

“Why did the refill sound like a can open ? 😆”

Game Jam Comments

"This was fun, took me a game or two to get the hang of it and then my daughter and I were rapidly counting in sets of 7!"

"What is normal for every cat owner - the game! Great game!"

"This game is really fun. I had great time, such a cool concept... something I want more of."

(Same Reviewer in a follow up) "Today I gave this game to a couple of my friends, who aren't very familiar with video games. Here's what I noticed after seeing them play (on mobile)..."

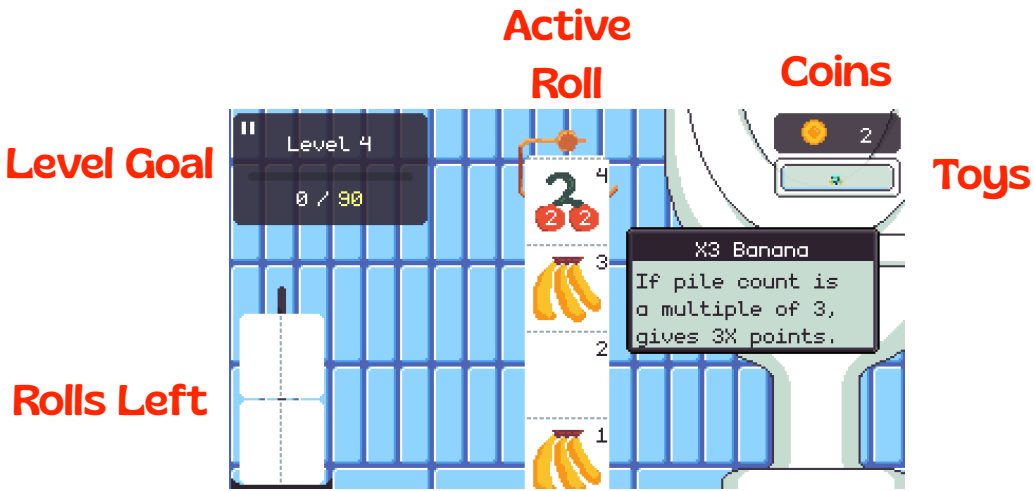

"...Pulling and cutting the toilet paper feels really good ... it turned from a counting game into a math game... loved that "aha" moment."

"I've found my favorite game of the jam! It's too fun with a touch screen laptop 🤣"

Game Overview

Swiping and Cutting

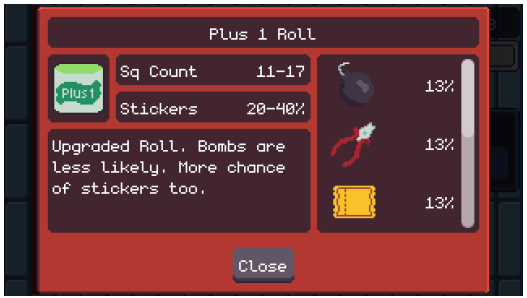

Your goal is to cut piles of toilet paper to gain enough points to beat the level. The roll's sticker effects combo alongside your active toy effects to make a crazy amount of points.

Buying Rolls and Toys

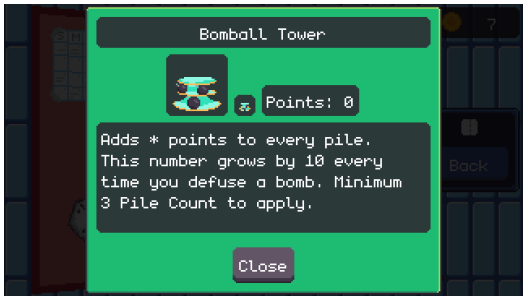

Rolls act as a one-time-use booster pack for unique stickers

Toys are run-persistent power-ups that help create crazy combos

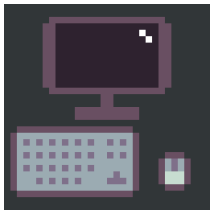

Players can choose to invest in a toy for stable points growth or try a roll to push their luck on the next level

Target Audience

PC Players

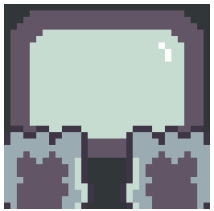

- Satisfying mouse controls
- Fans of “Balatro” and “Luck be a Landlord” will love it
- Cozy Pixel Art vibe with a manic and strategic twist

Cat Lovers

- Cat Theme and UI
- Mischievous Gameplay
- Filled with inside jokes for cat fans
- Parents will find it appropriate for kids (educational too!)

Mobile Players

- Satisfying touch controls
- Approachable gameplay is the same as on PC
- Bite-sized runs playable on transit, waiting in line, etc.

Right now, there's no word to describe when your cat has snuck into the bathroom, pulled down and shredded all your toilet paper. One day, that word could be...

PapoGato!

Based on a True Story
